The Georgia Historical Society, in conjunction with students of Decatur High School, Beacon Hill Black Alliance for Human Rights, and the City of Decatur, has announced the dedication of a new Civil Rights Trail historical marker in Decatur. The marker commemorates the sentencing of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Decatur to four months of hard labor following his arrest during the Atlanta Student Movement protest at Rich's department store in October 1960.
The Decatur Focus is the city’s official newsletter, published 10 times a year and mailed to every household, business and professional license-holder within the city limits. The Decatur Focus publishes announcements and information about Decatur including city services, downtown development, school news, business news, and news about individual residents and neighborhood associations. Community members are encouraged to submit information for inclusion in the Focus. For details, visit decaturga.com/focus.

Did know?

In July 2020, Decatur hired Chandlerthinks to review and assess the city’s communication programs and practices and to provide recommendations on desirable practices for implementation based on the results of the audit. The results were presented to the City Commission during a work session in January 2021. You may view the presentation at decaturga.swagit.com/play/01192021-885. The full report can be found at decaturga.com/communicationsaudit.
FY 2021-2022 Budget Schedule

Here are important dates in the budget schedule for the City of Decatur’s fiscal year 2021-2022 budget process, subject to City Commission approval. The public hearings will be held virtually via Zoom.

- June 7, 7:30 p.m. Public hearing on Proposed FY 2021-22 Budget and Revised 2020-21 Budget and 2021 millage rates.
- June 14, 6 p.m. Public hearing on 2021 millage rates (if necessary).
- June 21, 7:30 p.m. Public hearing and scheduled adoption of Proposed FY 2021-22 Budget and Revised 2020-21 Budget and adoption of the final 2021 millage rates.

Copies of the FY 2021-22 Proposed Budget and FY 2020-21 Revised Budget are available online at decaturga.com/budget. Should city and county facilities reopen to the public before the budget process has concluded, hard copies will be available for review at Decatur City Hall, 509 N. McDonough St., and at the Decatur Library, 215 Sycamore St.

Following a formal presentation of the budget to the Decatur City Commission, the city will publish a legal advertisement with more detailed information about the budget amounts and again identify the public hearing dates and times.

If you have questions or need additional information, contact City Clerk Meredith Roark, 404-370-4102, or meredith.roark@decaturga.com. Check decaturga.com/budget for updates to the schedule and to view the online budget.

Decatur Receives All-America City Hall of Fame Award

The National Civic League has recognized and celebrated the best in American civic innovation since 1949 with the All-America City Award. To celebrate the ongoing work of past winners, the National Civic League sponsors a Hall of Fame Award to recognize an outstanding civic engagement initiative in the community since winning the All-America City Award.

The National Civic League has inducted two communities into the All-America Hall of Fame in 2021. The inductees are the third and fourth communities to be inducted into the All-America City Hall of Fame.

Decatur was recognized for Destination 2030 – A Community Driven Strategic Plan Process.

Doug Linkhart, president of the National Civic League, said, “We are happy to welcome Decatur into the Hall of Fame. Decatur’s ongoing commitment to community engagement, as evidenced by the recent strategic planning process, shows that the community meets the ideals of an All-American City.”

The National Civic League advances inclusive civic engagement through community assistance programs, including: tools, training and facilitation services; award recognition programs; and nationally recognized research and publications. They promote efforts that seek to listen and learn from residents in ongoing conversations and leverage those insights to help reshape communities so they will thrive.

Decatur Plans Phased-In Re-Opening

The City of Decatur is beginning to re-open its facilities and resume municipal activities in a phased approach. The city is tracking several COVID-related data points and trends and following CDC guidelines as it moves forward in providing COVID-safe activities and facilities. The re-opening plan will guide decisions to expand activities and facility access if the trends remain stable or improve. HVAC upgrades are underway in all city buildings to keep employees and visitors safe when the buildings open to the public at a future date.

Currently city playgrounds and tennis courts are open and basketball goals have been re-installed in the parks. The pools will re-open on Memorial Day weekend. Outdoor sports activities are ongoing with safety protocols.

Planned summer opening activities include:

- June 1 – Opening several Legacy Park buildings and the Decatur Recreation Center for summer camps in June and July.
- June 1 – Opening the Oakhurst Indoor pool (inside the former Boys and Girls Club).
- June 1 – Scheduling kids activities at Ebster Recreation Center.
- July 4 – Fireworks (see page 5 for details).
- July 19 – City Commission holds first in-person meeting since March 2020; public will remain virtual.
- Aug. 1 – Resuming Active Living programming.
- Aug. 1 – Phasing in special event permits, bandstand rentals and park pavilion rentals.

The three COVID-safe guidelines — wear a mask, wash your hands, and remain socially distant — will remain in place. Watch the website and other social media for updated announcements related to activities and events.

The vaccination rate influences our ability to re-open safely. Please get the vaccine and encourage others so we can gather together safely soon.
Looking Back at Bike Month Kick-Off

In May, City of Decatur joined other DeKalb County cities to host a Bike Month kick-off at Clarkston City Hall Annex. During this event, each city provided a sneak peak of the programs and events planned throughout the month.

Kim Nelson, a Decatur resident for more than 30 years, has embraced the active lifestyle that the city encourages. She rides because the wind in her face makes her feel alive and the Decatur cycling community is second to none.

The yoga classes she teaches at the Decatur Family YMCA help to balance out her competitive spirit, which has been nurtured by local lawyer and cycling advocate Ken Rosskopf. With his encouragement, she learned the ropes of Masters racing, winning her age group National and World Champion titles in 2016. She has been proud to represent Sorella Cycling, a local group of more than 200 female riders of all ages and abilities.

Friends provide the company. The bike provides the wind. Kim Nelson is this month’s Walk and Roll Star.

FOCUS COMBINES JULY/AUGUST ISSUES

The July and August issues of the Decatur Focus are combined and will be available mid-July. The combined issue also features the city’s annual report. Send information for this issue by June 10 to decatur-focus@decaturga.com (as a Word document or in the body of the email only; please no PDFs) or to ATTN: Decatur Focus, PO Box 220, Decatur, GA 30031.
FIREWORKS SCHEDULED FOR JULY 4TH

The City of Decatur plans to launch its annual fireworks display on Sunday, July 4, beginning around nightfall. The community is encouraged to find a safe, socially distanced place to watch the 15-minute show that will launch from the top of the DeKalb County Courthouse parking deck. Streets in the fireworks fallout zone will be closed.

While we are not gathering officially as a community or hosting the annual Pied Piper Parade and Concert on the Square, we encourage you to wear a mask and enjoy the display safely and socially distanced.

Floodplain Information

Decatur’s Design, Environment and Construction Division provides general floodplain information on property located within the incorporated city limits. The Decatur Library also provides references on flooding and flood protection.

A map and information service is available for a $10 fee. This service provides inquirers with flood insurance rate map information and identifies whether a property is in a special hazard area. An accurate street address or DeKalb County/Decatur tax parcel identification number is needed to obtain this information. Call 678-553-6529 or email jennings.bell@decaturga.com.

SOLID WASTE AND HOLIDAY RECYCLING SCHEDULE

Fourth of July • Monday, July 5
Monday trash and recycling pick-up will be on Tuesday, July 6.
Tuesday trash and recycling pick-up will be on Wednesday, July 7.
MLK Historical Marker

The historical marker project was largely led by students from Decatur High School and supported by community groups that helped raise the necessary funding. As part of the marker project, students created a research paper and conducted oral histories of those who were eyewitnesses to Dr. King’s trial that were submitted as part of the marker application to the Georgia Historical Society. Students from Decatur High School also created a video documenting MLK’s arrest and sentencing, as well as the commemoration project that culminated in the marker unveiling.

The Commemorating King team includes the DHS students, teachers, and community mentor Mike Warren, with additional support from the DeKalb History Center, the City of Decatur, the Beacon Hill Black Alliance for Human Rights, and the Decatur Visitors Center. The Commemorating King team also created a brochure with supplemental information that is available to the community.

“The arrest of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Decatur was a pivotal moment in the Civil Rights movement that needs to be publicly recognized and better understood,” said Dr. W. Todd Groce, President and CEO of the Georgia Historical Society. “What makes this marker truly special, however, is that it was created by high school students. Their passion for history and their commitment to telling and interpreting this story is not only inspiring, it will also help shape a better future for this community and our state.”

The marker was unveiled with a small ceremony on Sunday, April 25, at the corner of McDonough Street and Trinity Place — the former site of the DeKalb County Civil and Criminal Court and Jail. The community will be invited to a dedication ceremony in the fall.

The Georgia Civil Rights Trail Initiative was established in 2015 as part of the ongoing work of the Georgia Historical Marker Program to recognize the rich diversity of our state’s past. It focuses broadly on the economic, social, political, and cultural history of the Civil Rights Movement. This is the newest marker on the trail.

The marker reads:

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. in Decatur

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. was sentenced here, at the site of the former DeKalb Building, on October 25, 1960, to four months of hard labor for protesting segregation with the Atlanta Student Movement at a Rich’s Department Store dining room. His arrest violated parole conditions set by Judge J. Oscar Mitchell, who had convicted King of driving without a Georgia license, even though he carried a valid Alabama license. Mitchell’s harsh sentencing of King’s parole violation energized Civil Rights activists and amplified demands to end racist laws and policies. King’s mistreatment focused national attention on the Civil Rights Movement when John and Robert Kennedy intervened to free King from prison. As a result, many Black voters switched parties to help elect John F. Kennedy president, setting the stage for major Civil Rights legislation.

Check Out the New Swing

Friends of Decatur Cemetery has donated a new swing near the cemetery pond, at the circle between Section 15 and the hill to the Old Section. This replaces a previously donated one that had deteriorated over the years. The swing offers a place to gently enjoy the cemetery as a coveted greenspace in downtown Decatur. Stop by and “sit a spell.”
The City of Decatur has been recognized by the Walk Friendly Communities Program as a Gold Level Walk Friendly Community (WFC) for its commitment to prioritize pedestrians and create safe, comfortable and inviting places to walk. Decatur has previously been recognized as a Silver Walk Friendly Community, and the new designation demonstrates a sustained commitment to prioritizing people on foot. Decatur is the smallest city of its size to achieve Gold recognition.

WFC is a national recognition program developed to encourage cities and towns across the United States to develop and support walking environments with an emphasis on safety, mobility, access and comfort.

Sponsored by FedEx and managed by the University of North Carolina Highway Safety Research Center (HSRC), the program distinguishes communities leading the way in walkability and seeks to share their stories to inspire other communities to move toward their own innovative solutions. In the 11 years since the program began, it has recognized 78 cities across 32 States with Walk Friendly designations.

Decatur Receives ‘Walk Friendly’ Designation

Decatur updated its Community Transportation Plan in 2018, which drives its investment in walking and pedestrian-oriented programs. The chapters devoted to pedestrians and bicyclists address existing services for these users, as well as priority networks and a list of recommended improvements and policies.

Decatur updated its shared parking ordinance to reduce parking minimums and set new maximums for parking. The city is incentivizing mixed-use developments with shared parking allowance, in one case reducing 510 spaces to 350 spaces.

For a small community, Decatur has a dense and walkable core where nearly all trips are possible on foot. The community is well connected to other destinations throughout the metro Atlanta region by MARTA transit services, and the city’s transit stations are optimized for bicycling and walking connections.

Connections to regional destinations are at the center of the city’s partnership with the PATH Foundation, which was formalized with the Decatur PATH Foundation Connectivity and Implementation Plan. This collaboration is working toward nearly 10 miles of bicycle and pedestrian trail improvements along seven segments that will create critical regional connections to Decatur.

Decatur has had a strong Safe Routes to School program since 2005, when it participated in a pilot program with the Georgia Department of Transportation.
Save the Date! Oct. 1-3
Book, Beer, Arts, and Amplify Festivals
Return with a Jam-packed Weekend

Decatur Book Festival has a new date, and this year they’re sharing it. After 15 years of hosting literary events over Labor Day weekend, the DBF will now take place during the first weekend in October. Because of COVID, this year’s festival will be different. In the spirit of collaboration, four of Decatur’s festivals are joining forces for a weekend of arts programming in downtown Decatur.

- The Book Festival will host five author events at the First Baptist Church of Decatur on Saturday, Oct. 2.
- The Decatur Arts Festival will present more than 100 new and returning artists from across the country and across town on Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 2-3, showcasing their creations within a dozen disciplines.
- The Amplify Decatur Music Festival will present two nights of music from bands new and old on Friday and Saturday night, Oct. 1-2.
- The Decatur Craft Beer Festival will host live music in the Brick Store Pub beer garden with hard-to-find special beer offerings.

The four festivals are working closely with City of Decatur officials to ensure COVID safety. All plans are currently in the making, so stay tuned for more details.

Summer Story Walk Ongoing!

Decatur Story Walk is a fun, educational, COVID-safe activity for families. Pages from two children’s books will be displayed in storefront windows in Downtown Decatur (along Ponce de Leon Ave.), the Old Depot District. A third route will be available in Oakhurst later this summer. Go to visitdecaturgeorgia.com/storywalk for information on books and routes.

Each book is available for purchase at Little Shop of Stories, 133 East Court Square; Brave + Kind Bookshop, 722 W. College Ave.; or Charis Books, 184 S. Candler St.
DeKalb Library Foundation Receives Community Impact Grant

For the second year in a row, the DeKalb Library Foundation has received a $15,000 Community Impact Grant from New York Life to support the DeKalb County Public Library’s Take the Internet Home with You initiative. DeKalb Library Foundation Board member Tim Martin championed the foundation through the New York Life grant process.

The Take the Internet Home with You initiative allows patrons to check out hotspot devices so they may access the Internet in their home for 21 days. Patrons report that they need this service – which allows them to stay connected to school, work, healthcare resources, and family – now more than ever. Library patron Bryson learned about the library’s hotspots from his mom who has checked them out.

Visit dekalblibraryfoundation.org for more information.

Celebrate Summer with a Visit to Woodlands Garden

After many months of construction, the fences are down and the garden’s doors are officially open to everyone. Come stroll the trails and enjoy the changes made possible by a generous community of supporters. The changes include a new greenscaped entrance on Scott Boulevard and Clairemont Avenue, parking for school buses, better access to the garden’s trails, and a refurbished Visitors Center – all accompanied by the serenity, birds, native plants and trees you’ve enjoyed at Woodlands in seasons past.

As a reminder, Woodlands asks all visitors to:
- Visit during daylight hours
- Stay on the paths
- Leave dogs at home
- Park in designated parking spaces

Find detailed driving directions at woodlandsgarden.org. While there is no admission fee for Woodlands, donations are encouraged for continued maintenance and programs.

For more information, visit woodlandsgarden.org.

New Book Alert:
Kingdom of Secrets

Decatur resident Christyne Morrell will release her first middle-grade novel, Kingdom Of Secrets, on Aug. 3.

Prismena’s father is the hot air balloonist in the peaceful kingdom of Oren. She assists him by mending torn balloons, but she yearns to build and fly the complicated machines herself.

One day, a waif named Abi steals Prissy’s only remaining memento of her deceased mother – a silk scarf – and promises to return it only if Prissy smuggles a mysterious box onto one of her father’s flights. Since balloon travel is strictly regulated in Oren, that single act of rebellion results in her father’s arrest and kicks off a spiraling series of events that will yank Prissy out of her predictable life.

Christyne is also the author of the picture book Abra, Cadabra & Bob, and her poems and stories have appeared in Highlights, Spider, and The School Magazine. She has a second children’s book coming out in 2022.

New Book Alert:
The Proudest Color

Local illustrator Monica Mikai announces a new book on diversity. The Proudest Color celebrates the diversity of color from a young girl’s perspective.

Zahra sees the world in vivid color. When she’s happy, she feels a razzle-dazzle pink in her hands. When she’s sad, she feels a deep blue behind her eyes. But she isn’t quite sure how to feel about the color of her skin. Kids at school tell her she is different, but her mother tells her to be proud!

From a diverse team and based on extensive research, The Proudest Color is a timely, sensitive introduction to race, racism, and racial pride. The book is set to hit shelves in September, but is available for preorder now wherever books are sold. More of Monica Mikai’s work can be found at monicamikai.com or Instagram @monicamikai.
Carlos Museum Is Open to All

The Michael C. Carlos Museum is now open to visitors by reservation. The museum has a plethora of virtual and in-person offerings this summer, and Decatur resident Sarah Hagenbush Jones invites the Decatur community to visit. The Museum Bookshop and Ebrik Coffee Room are also open. Museum hours are:

- Tuesday through Friday, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.
- Saturdays, 10 a.m.-5 p.m.
- Sundays, noon-5 p.m.

For more details about how to make a reservation to visit the museum, visit carlos.emory.edu/hours-and-admission.

Camp Carlos Registration for Virtual Summer Camp Is Open

This summer, the Michael C. Carlos Museum offers two weeks of creative and educational half-day virtual camps, centered on the museum’s collections, for children ages 8-12.

June 14-18: Recreating the Surface. Campers will examine the symbols, motifs, and patterns in art from cultures around the world and create their own works of art.

July 12-16: Drawn from the Collections. Campers will examine prints and drawings in the museum’s Works on Paper Collection and deepen their drawing skills.

Upon registration, you will receive a Zoom link for camp and information about accessing materials, all of which will be provided. Fee: $150 for Carlos Museum members; $200 for nonmembers.

Visit carlos.emory.edu/camp for more information and to register. For more information about Carlos Museum programs for children and families, contact Ana Vizurrage at ana.vizurr@emory.edu.

The Avatars of Vishnu Exhibition Open Until June 20

The Avatars of Vishnu Exhibition, in the Works on Paper Gallery at Emory University, was curated by students in the spring semester Art History class Depicting God in Hinduism: The Avatars of Vishnu. The class was taught by Dr. Ellen Gough, assistant professor in Emory’s Department of Religion.

Vishnu, one of the most popular Hindu deities, manifests in various forms known by the Sanskrit term avatāra, which means descent. Throughout cyclical periods of time, known as yugas, Vishnu descends to earth in times of need to restore cosmic order and balance.

The class benefited from virtual visits with distinguished art historians from the Brooklyn Museum, Middlebury College, and Haverford College to discuss the many forms in which Vishnu descends to earth to restore cosmic order and balance. These lectures have been recorded and can be viewed at carlos.emory.edu/avatars-vishnu-lectures.

Each/Other Exhibition Comes to the Carlos Museum

This fall, check out the Michael C. Carlos Museum’s newest exhibition, Each/Other, by Marie Watt and Cannupa Hanska Luger. The exhibition will be open Sept. 25-Dec. 1, and is the first to feature together the work of Marie Watt and Cannupa Hanska Luger, two leading indigenous contemporary artists whose processes focus on collaborative artmaking. For more details, visit carlos.emory.edu.
Beautifying the Bandstand

The Decatur Development Authority, city businesses, and city staff hosted a planting day with the help of volunteers, as a way to beautify the downtown area to welcome visitors and residents back to the square.

Celebrating Decatur High Seniors

Decatur Education Foundation Awards $70,000 in Scholarships

Thanks to donors in our community, the Decatur Education Foundation awards more than $70,000 in scholarships annually to 20 hard-working high school seniors. The newest award is the Pollack Family Scholarship, established this year by longtime residents Debby and Mike Pollack, who raised three students in Decatur.

Seniors were awarded their scholarships in May at an outdoor celebration in the courtyard of Decatur High School. After having to cancel the in-person banquet due to COVID, DEF was pleased to host a socially distanced event and to honor these ambitious students who deserve recognition for their hard work.

Congratulations to all of DEF scholarship recipients and to every member of the DHS Class of 2021. To learn more about these students and the awards they received, visit decatureducationfoundation.org/2021scholarships.

Agnes Scott College Announces Women’s Global Leadership Conference: Building a Better World: Women and Climate Justice

Sept. 23-24 (conference)
Sept. 25 (day of service)

The second annual Women’s Global Leadership Conference at Agnes Scott College will bring together global, national, state and local leaders to share innovative solutions to the most important challenges of our times. Panel discussions will be dedicated to empowering leaders, building strong collaborations, creating “climate-just communities,” and inspiring action for change. Themes of innovation, leadership, collaboration and community action will be incorporated throughout the conference with presentations from representatives of business, government, academia and advocacy organizations. Students from Agnes Scott will participate alongside these leaders.

The virtual and in-person conference will be held at Agnes Scott College, Sept. 23-24, with a day of service on Sept. 25. Visit conferences.aggnesscott.org/WGLC2021/ for updates.
New Agnes Scott College Alumnae Program Established

Emory University’s Goizueta Business School has announced a $5 million endowment from Rosemary and John Brown to establish the Rosemary and John Brown Family Scholars Program. Designed to afford opportunity and increase enrollment, the Brown Family Scholars Program will provide scholarships to Agnes Scott and Spelman College alumnae enrolled in Goizueta’s graduate programs.

The program aligns with Agnes Scott’s Professional Success Initiative, part of the college’s Pathway to Success, the 2021-2026 strategic plan. This initiative provides students with the resources and opportunities needed for success in their professional, civic and personal lives and will be bolstered by the college’s upcoming Center for Student Discovery and Professional Success.

The Brown Family Scholars Program also furthers Agnes Scott’s commitment to collaborate with leading business schools in metro Atlanta to develop the interests of undergraduates. Agnes Scott’s Women’s Bridge to Business partnership with Georgia Tech’s Scheller College of Business is currently in its 10th year.

The Brown Family Scholars Program will begin to award scholarships this fall.
